Spring 2019

President's Corner

Andrew Osterbauer

SCCP is gearing up to have a busy rest of the year. We recently just finished our apparel sale and very soon will be unveiling our pharmacy stickers which was created by one our very own members! We will be having one more guest lecturer this semester and I am very excited to hear what they have to say.

Next month, will be having the clinical pharmacy challenge and will be hosting the research symposium. PLS is hosting the very first leadership gala and SCCP is currently nominated for 2 awards: most growth and unique event, for the Research Symposium. Elections are also right around the corner so if you have any questions about positions please reach out to me. Hope everyone has a wonderful spring break!

Faculty Research Panel

Do you want to get involved in research?

Are you curious about what types of research our faculty is involved in?

Mark your calendars for April 9th at 4:30pm! SCCP will be partnering with PLS to host a panel of faculty that offer research experiences to students.

Come see how you can get involved or just to learn more about the opportunities that exist!

Clinical Research Challenge – Update!

The local competition on Tuesday, February 5th was a success. Three teams participated and a team of three DPH-1's (Dan Funk, Tai Lu, and Aaron Klysen) won! They then went on to Round 1, the Online Journal Club Competition, which took place on Monday, February 11th.

On February 13th, they found out that they were one of the 40 qualifying teams for Round 2! They now must submit a Letter of Intent Proposal by the end of March 1st for review by the CRC Research Protocol Committee and the top 20 teams for Round 3 will be announced on March 25th.

Best of luck to Dan, Tai, and Aaron, as they represent our school in the national competition!

Annual PharmD and PharmTox Research Symposium Coming this Spring

SCCP will be hosting the 4th annual PharmD/Pharm-Tox Research Symposium on April 16th from 12-2 pm in the HSLC. Whether or not you are presenting, please plan to attend and view the posters! It is a great opportunity to view the exciting research that students are engaged in, and eat some tasty snacks!
